

Lomita Station is sorry to announce the passing of Sheriff's volunteer Robert Wilson. He passed away early this morning after being admitted to the hospital for pain in his head.

Bob had faithfully served the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department and Lomita Station for almost 13 years by donating over 20,175 hours of his personal time, during which he helped conduct traffic control, checked homes as part of our vacation patrol check service, delivered station mail throughout the county, and countless other tasks. He could be relied upon to do any tasks which were asked of him, and to do those tasks with enthusiasm. He was awarded the Lomita Station Volunteer of the Year award numerous times. Bob would show up early for every event we had and be willing to do absolutely anything to insure those events were a success. He always had a story or joke to tell and always had pep in his step.

Bob will be sorely missed by all of us at Lomita Station. His daily presence was a cornerstone of life at Lomita, and his absence will be felt by all of us for a long time to come.

Bob was 70 years old and is survived by his wife Sandy, his sons Andy and Danny, and his grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

"Bob was a true gentleman and a class act! We are all grateful to have crossed his path."
