

Volunteer of the Year

Bob Wilson

With over 70 Volunteers on Patrol, Lomita Station prides itself as having one of the largest contingents of volunteers in the county of Los Angeles. Station volunteers are a very integral part of the support system for the men and women that work at Lomita Station. They assist with duties at the front desk, the crime analyst, secretariat, traffic control at accident scenes along with patrolling the areas within Lomita Station's jurisdiction. One of our special volunteers is Bob Wilson. After a tenured career with Goodyear, Bob retired and tried odd jobs. He tried his hand as an assistant football coach at Narbonne High School but soon grew tired of it. A friend told him about volunteering at the local Sheriff's Station. Bob has been volunteering with Lomita Station for over fourteen years. His primary duties include delivering mail to various county facilities and conducting patrol checks. Over his illustrious career with Lomita Station, Bob has amassed over 10,000 hard earned hours. Bob and his wife Sandy have been married for over 47 years and live in the area. Sandy says the volunteer job has been a blessing for Bob. It keeps his mind active and "gets him out of the house."

For more information about being a Volunteer and to help make your community a safer place to live for everyone, contact Sergeant Dave Rozas at the Lomita Sheriff Station (310) 891-3227 or dtrozas@lasd.org
