the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion (United Nations 1999).

There are a number of reasons why the number of children in the world is increasing. One of the main reasons is that the number of children who are surviving to the age of 5 has increased significantly in the past few decades. This is due to a number of factors, including improved medical care, better nutrition, and a decrease in the number of children who are dying from preventable diseases.

Another reason why the number of children in the world is increasing is that the number of children who are being born is increasing. This is due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of children who are being aborted, a decrease in the number of children who are being adopted, and a decrease in the number of children who are being placed in orphanages.

OIR # 22058

Allegations/Synopsis: 22058

In the early morning hours, deputies responded to a sexual battery incident at a gas station. The suspect whom deputies contacted near the gas station had grabbed a woman and then her breasts. Initially, the man cooperated with the deputies; however, as the deputies and the suspect approached the patrol car and the deputies tried to handcuff the suspect, the suspect broke free and ran away from the deputies. The deputies followed on foot, and as the man ran south, Subject Deputy A tased the suspect, striking him in the chest. After the taser cycled, the suspect pulled the taser darts out of his body and continued to run south. At the next intersection, the suspect turned around and began running north back toward the deputies. Subject Deputy A then deployed O.C. spray, and this also had no effect on the suspect. The suspect then charged Subject Deputy A, and the two engaged in a physical fight. When the suspect grabbed Subject Deputy A's handgun and tried to remove it from the holster, Subject Deputy B with his right forearm struck the suspect several times in the face. Deputies handcuffed the suspect. While handcuffed and on the ground, the suspect continued to struggle and kick at deputies. Deputies were able to tarp the man. Later, the suspect went into cardiac arrest and died.

OIR # 22304

Allegations/Synopsis: 22304

On routine patrol, Subject Deputies saw two suspects peering into windows of parked cars. When Subject Deputies began to make contact with the suspects, the suspects reached into their respective waistband areas. Both suspects ignored Subject Deputies' orders to remove their hands. Both Subject Deputies then drew their service weapons and issued orders for the hand removal again. Suspect A became verbally abusive, and Deputy 2 grabbed the suspect and pushed him to the patrol car. Suspect B reluctantly complied and approached Subject Deputies. Suspect A shouted for Suspect B to run. Suspect A then punched Subject Deputy 2 in the chest and stomach area six or seven times. Subject Deputy 2 then punched Suspect A in the face five or six times. With a handgun in clear view, Suspect B ran away from Subject Deputies. Subject Deputy 1 struck Suspect A on the head twice with a flashlight. Subject Deputy 2 was then able to push Suspect A to the ground. On the ground the fight continued, Suspect A punched and kicked Subject Deputy 2. Subject Deputy 1 struck Suspect A on the right knee and five or six times on the left ankle. Suspect A stopped fighting and was then handcuffed. Department personnel established a containment and captured Suspect B.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (15.5% of the population).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (1) Older people should be able to live independently and actively in their own homes.
- (2) Older people should be able to live in their own communities.
- (3) Older people should be able to live in their own homes and communities for as long as possible.

These principles are underpinned by the following objectives (Department of Health 1999):

- (1) To ensure that older people are able to live independently and actively in their own homes.
- (2) To ensure that older people are able to live in their own communities.
- (3) To ensure that older people are able to live in their own homes and communities for as long as possible.

The White Paper also sets out a number of key actions to be taken to achieve these objectives. These include:

- (1) To ensure that older people are able to live independently and actively in their own homes.
- (2) To ensure that older people are able to live in their own communities.
- (3) To ensure that older people are able to live in their own homes and communities for as long as possible.
